

MULTIPLE LOCATION PROPERTY MANAGER CAN CROSS LANDSCAPE AND SNOW REMOVAL WORRIES OFF THEIR LIST

Lou Ann Paul has been contracting with Turfscape for over a decade now. Being part of a Commercial and Real Estate team like Geis Properties that has properties throughout Northeast Ohio, she has come to value the logistical and communication benefits partnering with a landscape and snow removal provider like Turfscape for a majority of her properties.

Turfscapes Inc.

Responsible for multiple properties in Ohio that include cities like Streetsboro, Twinsburg, and Brooklyn Heights, it is impossible to see every property at once and know for certain that your facilities are being visited and serviced to your client's expectations. Having a landscape and snow removal contractor like Turfscape, who has multiple operational locations throughout Northeast Ohio, is a major benefit to Lou Ann as Turfscape has become her primary contractor.

"Throughout the years as our company has continued to grow, Turfscape has been a valued landscape and snow removal provider for us." said Paul. "Once we contract one of our properties with Turfscape, we know we will have a clean and crisp appearance during the landscaping season and when the snow is flying that our properties are being serviced timely which leads to satisfied tenants."

Another important factor for Lou Ann when managing multiple properties for snow removal and landscape maintenance is communication. This is especially true during the winter months as during a typical storm Geis may have dozens of properties being serviced at any given moment. Paul adds: “Having a large portfolio of properties, it is vital to have a snow contractor that provides transparent management of our locations and Turfscape continues to be at the forefront of all the contractors we work with in making sure everyone is on the same page.”
